Governor Murphy received the first news of the fight between a band of Navajo Indiam, and a sheriff's posse near Flagstaf on Saturday night, his informant being E. S. Clark, district attorney d. Coconino county. Late yesterday afternoon he received a second telegram from Dan Hogan, member of the posse. In both instances the governor replied, urging that the situation be not exaggerated by the people of Flagstaff and that they act with coolness and good judgment. The governor left on the northbound train last night for the scene of the trouble and will arrive there during the course of the Montgomery, who is reported killed, Governor Murphy, Mr. Montgomery has been employed for several years by the S. F. P. & P. milroad in this city prising, however, as in addition to travand is now occupying the position of eling a distance of incrty-five miles the chief car repairer. He was not without hope that the first reports may allye, although it may be, seriously wounded. Mr. Montgomery said last evening, just before the train left:

"I received a telegram early this morning, to use the language of the message, that Will Montgomery is supposed to be killed by the Indians. The news was a sad shock to me, as you may imagine, and I was left without hope. Late this afternoon I received another telegram that stated that nothing certain will be known until the posse returns. I am in hopes, therefore, that Will is yet alive and has a fighting chance to recover.

"My son is only 19 years old, but weighs 190 pounds and is as straight as an arrow. He is absolutely fearless. He has worked at the Roden cattle ranch for several years past. The ranch has been managed by Billy Roden, who succeeded his father, now deceased, in the management of the business. Will had intended coming to Phoenix about the first of the month on a visit. He has served on sheriff's posses several times previous to this occasion."

The report was circulated around town yesterday that the Montgomery said to be killed was a son of John Montgomery, a well known resident and property owner. The message notifying Mr. E. M. Montgomery of the death of his son was first mistakenly delivered at the home of Mr. John Montgomery and was opened by Mrs.
